Greater Cleveland Habitat for Humanity typically works on 12 or more Partner Family job sites, as well as making repairs on Habitat-owned properties. As we engage thousands of volunteers throughout the course of the year, our professional tool sets need continuous replacement and repair.

We also operate a recycled building materials store, called ReStore, placing tools and materials for home repair and renovation into the hands of the community at a fraction of their original cost, while keeping tons of material out of local landfills

Please buy extra tools on your next trip to the hardware store, clean out your basement or empty that overflowing garage and donate new or unused items to help keep Habitat for Humanity on the job.

New tools and used tools in good condition are placed directly into service on our job sites. All other tools are sold through the ReStore, providing income to support our mission to eliminate poverty housing!
